I can help you to differentiate your business, create more engagement with your audience, and gain more clients. You can create your own unique presentations, using illustrated characters and stories, to represent, empathise, and create emotion with your target audience, and potential and existing customers.

When you deliver powerful and persuasive messages in all your presentations, training, and communications, you give your audiences the WOW factor, on all your online and offline communications, including: PowerPoint, webinars, Zoom meetings, social media, and your website.

WHO I WORK WITH

I work with organisations, large and small, individuals, designers, and consultants, with illustrations, presentations, and business development and marketing plans.

I also paint portraits of pets, and people.

WHY IT WORKS

When you partner with Susan Lintell Fine Art, you get the most efficient, effective and affordable business presentations, market research, marketing plans, and illustrations that all businesses are looking for right now.
